Boise Denver batted out three runs in the first after Salt Lake had drawn a goose-egg. In the second Salt Lake batted hard and tied the score. When Boise came to bat again Hanson got to first on a hit. Then Thornton made a balk, as claimed by Umpire Setley. The latter cautioned him, but Thornton repeated the Setley then sent Hanson to second and that started the trouble. Thornton abused the umpire and Manager Reilly and Catcher Leahy joined in it. Setley fined each $10 and put them out of the game.

He gave Salt Lake a minute to play ball. The latter could not do so with three men out of the game, and the game was forfeited. After the game Reilly had Setley and Hanson arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct and using obscene language. Reilly was using obscene language. Reilly was also arrested.
